WELCOME TO THE RIO GRANDE VALLEY

The Rio Grande Valley (RGV), affectionately known as "The Valley," is a vibrant bicultural region in Deep South Texas known for its unique blend of Mexican and American traditions. Visitors are drawn to its year-round subtropical warmth, world-class nature tourism, and affordable cost of living. The McAllen-Mission area has the third lowest crime rate in Texas.

Key Reasons to Visit:

World-Class Birding & Nature: The RGV is a top global destination for birders, home to the World Birding Center network with nine distinct locations

Bentsen-Rio Grande Valley State Park: A "birders' paradise" in Mission featuring over 360 species, including the Green Jay and Altamira Oriole.

Santa Ana National Wildlife Refuge: Often called the "jewel" of the refuge system, it hosts over 400 bird species and 14 miles of trails

National Butterfly Center: A 100-acre habitat in Mission where hundreds of butterfly species fly freely.

Coastal Escapes: South Padre Island offers miles of white sand beaches, active nightlife, and water sports like kiteboarding and deep-sea fishing.

Authentic Culture & Cuisine: The region is a "foodie's paradise" famous for its Tex-Mex and authentic Mexican flavors. The RGV is also home to great BBQ and plenty of restaurants you know and enjoy.

Entertainment: The RV parks, subdivisions and convention centers have activities of all kinds as well as dances and concerts.

Affordability: Compared to other sun destinations, the RGV offers highly competitive rates for hotels, dining, and activities, making it popular for "Winter Texans". The tax exemption for staying 30+ days is a real money saver.

Square Dancing: One can square dance Monday - Saturday with friendly dancers and fun callers.
